

Call for Photos!

Showcase Your Activity in the Run-Up to GES 2017

The United States and India will co-host the 8th annual Global Entrepreneurship Summit (GES) November 28-30 in Hyderabad, India, focused on supporting women entrepreneurs and fostering economic growth globally. GES 2017 intends to inspire innovative initiatives, forge new collaborations across countries, and increase economic opportunities, particularly among women.

In the spirit of this event, we are asking USAID/India partners to submit photos that fit in with the theme of women's empowerment and/or entrepreneurship. Photos should illustrate USAID's development activities to empower women and girls—with a special focus on women and girls in technology, education, health, WASH, energy/environment and leadership roles.

Selected photos will be featured on social media in the run-up to GES with the chance of having your activity's photo(s) showcased at high-profile events.

This is a great opportunity to share your successes with USAID, its partners, and the broader community. Beyond this specific call for photos, we encourage you to send us photos/stories from your activities throughout the year. Help us to tell your story!
